

Tamrazyan Ashot Georgievich

Head of the Department of Reinforced Concrete and Masonry Structures of the Moscow State University of Civil Engineering,

Corresponding Member of the Russian Academy of Architecture and Construction Sciences, Professor, Doctor of Technical Sciences

- Born: 1952, Kirovakan, Armenian SSR,
- 1970-1974 — graduated from the Industrial and Civil Engineering (ICE) faculty of the Yerevan Polytechnic Institute (YerPI).
- 1983 — defended his PhD thesis at the Moscow State University of Civil Engineering (MGSU)
- 1998 — defended his doctoral thesis at MGSU and received the degree of Doctor of Technical Sciences
- 1998 — Professor of the Department of Reinforced Concrete and Stone Structures at MGSU.
- 2014 — Head of the Department of Reinforced Concrete and Masonry Structures

He has published more than 500 scientific works (Scopus - 61, Web of Science - 27), including 7 textbooks, 8 monographs, 15 author's certificates and patents, 6 methodological manuals, 30 curricula, Co-author of 15 regulatory documents.

Trained 12 candidates and 4 doctors of technical sciences.

- Honorary Worker of Higher Professional Education of the Russian Federation
- Awarded the RIA "Engineering Valor" honorary badge in 2014.
- Laureate of the Russian Federation Government Prize in Science and Technology 2017.
- Awarded the Certificate of Honor of the Moscow Government in 2018.

- 2022- Honorary Builder of Russia,
- Honorary doctorate from several national universities.

The publication activity index in Scopus is 12, in WoS – 5.

Hirsch index – 34.